Career/Internship Opportunities in Transportation

Undergraduate and graduate students are invited to come hear about careers in transportation engineering and planning – a field that employs people from a variety of engineering and non-engineering backgrounds – and learn about what to look for in both internship and full-time employment opportunities.

Kittelson & Associates has ten offices located around the country and one in Brisbane, Australia. They regularly hire students for summer internships as well as full-time entry-level engineering and planning positions. The firm specializes in transportation engineering and planning, and is interested in talking to students from all disciplines. Last year, they provided seven internships to students who ranged in academic standing from freshman to graduate student. You can find out more about the firm by visiting their website at www.kittelson.com.

Karl Passetti and University of Florida alumna Thuha Nguyen Lyew will be hosting an informational presentation on careers in transportation on Tuesday, October 19th beginning at 11 a.m. in Weil Room 513. Pizza and soft drinks will be provided.

On Tuesday October 19th and Wednesday October 20th, Karl and Thuha will meet one-on-one with students who are interested in learning about employment and internship opportunities. To express interest in a one-on-one meeting, please go to www.kittelson.com, click on “Careers/University Visits”, and follow the instructions prior to Thursday, October 14th.
